Nowhere was the federal government empowered to set up a bank.

Hemoglobin consists mostly of protein (the "globin" chains), and these proteins, in turn, are composed of sequences of amino acids. These sequence are linear, in the manner of letters in a written sentence or beads on a string. In all, it is the variation of proteins, it is the variation in type of amino acids in the protein sequence of amino acids, which determines the protein's chemical properties and function.

This is true of hemoglobin, where the sequence of amino acids may affect crucial functions such as the protein's affinity for oxygen.
